CONSUMER AND CORPORATE AFFAIRS
*468	Amend the Small Business Loans Regulations, 1993, effective April 1, 1995, to impose an annual fee on money lenders who make loans under these Regulations, and raise the maximum rate of interest a lender may charge on these loans. The annual fee will be 1.25%, to be levied on each lender's average outstanding balance of Small Business Loan Act (SBLA) loans made after March 31, 1995. The maximum rate of interest that a lender may charge on loans made after March 31, 1995 is increased to the aggregate of the prime lending rate plus 3% (currently plus 1.75%) for floating rate loans or the aggregate of the residential mortgage rate plus 3% (currently plus 1.75%) for fixed rate loans. The impact of the changes will be to increase SBLA revenues so as to make the loan program fully cost recoverable on all loans registered after April 1, 1995. (Currently, the program is only about one-third cost recoverable.) As a result of the changes, total SBLA lending activity, now averaging $3.7-billion a year, is expected to decline. (March 21, 1995)	Small Business Loans Act

*461	Enact the Motor Vehicle Tire Safety Regulations, 1995 which will replace the present Regulations so that the substantive parts correspond to the new Motor Vehicle Safety Act given Royal Assent on May 6, 1993. (March 21, 1995)	Motor Vehicle Safety Act
*462	Enact the Charts and Nautical Publications Regulations, 1995 which will require all ships to have appropriate charts, tide tables and other nautical documents or publications on board, and provide for their maintenance and use. This amendment consolidates the two separate parts under the previous regulations, simplifying the regulations. It updates the regulations by requiring the carriage of two new publications: the Merchant Ship Search and Rescue Manual (MERSAR) and the Standard Marine Navigational Vocabulary. It provides for the transfer of the carriage requirement of the International Code of Signals and the Table of Life-Saving Signals that were previously contained in the Navigating Appliances Regulations, revoked in 1984. NUMBER PC-1995-	ITEM	STATUTORY AUTHORITY
*882	Amendments to the Public Harbours Regulations which increase harbour dues at public ports on July 1, 1995. Harbour dues will be increased by charging for the first five entries into a public harbour within the national system of public harbours, to a maximum of five per calendar year, instead of for the first three entries. The rate for the transfer charge for harbours north of 50 degrees N would be made the same as that for ports south of 50 degrees N. (June 6, 1995)	Public Harbours and Port Facilities Act
*883	Amendments to the Government Wharves Regulations which increase wharfage charges, harbour dues and berthage, storage and other port charges for ports south of 50 degrees N by approximately 25%, effective July 1, 1995. Exceptions would include the wharfage rate for grain, all petroleum products (except gasoline, which would be reduced by 42%) and all other liquid bulk products where rates would only be increased by 10%. The utilities charge (currently cost plus 20%) would increase to cost plus 25%. The cruise vessel passenger charge would be increased by 25%. (June 6, 1995)	Public Harbours and Port Facilities Act
*884	Amendments to the Port Wardens Tariff which increase existing fees for port warden services and introduce a new minimum fee for surveys or inspections done outside of normal working hours, effective July 1, 1995. (June 6, 1995)	Canada Shipping Act
*885	Amendments to the Ship's Tonnage Survey and Measurement Fees Regulations which increase most existing fees and introduce new fees for the verification of tonnage calculations performed by a surveyor of ships ("fee for office" appointees) and for surveys and measurements done outside of normal working hours, effective July 1, 1995. (June 6, 1995)	Canada Shipping Act
*886	Amendments to the Ships Registry Fees Tariff which increase existing fees for ship registration services on July 1, 1995. Also introduced are new fees for: replacement of a certificate of registry; approval of registration of a foreign-built ship; issue of a provisional certificate of registration; registry of alteration; and deletion of certificate of registration. (June 6, 1995)	Canada Shipping Act
*887	Enactment of the Canadian Computer Reservation Systems (CRS) Regulations which establish the rules for airline computer reservation systems operated in Canada for the purpose of ensuring that information on airline schedules, fares, rules, seat availability, etc., is provided in a comprehensive, neutral manner. Among the many changes is a provision to prohibit participating air carriers from requiring the use of any particular CRS system by a travel agent in order to obtain any discount, rebate, benefit, commission or other incentive for the sale of or as a condition of access to its air services (tied selling). Carriers and vendors are also prohibited from carrying on any form of joint marketing activity. Travel agents are required to transmit to consumers all information which the air carriers must provide for any service appearing in a default CRS display in which the consumer expresses interest; the purpose of this latter change is to ensure that consumers are made fully aware of the true characteristics of each air service. (June 6, 1995)	Aeronautics Act
*888	Amendments to the Designated Provisions Regulations which designate those provisions of the Canadian Computer Reservation Systems (CRS) Regulations which may be enforced by means of an administrative monetary penalty and establish the maximum fines payable by individuals or corporations. ## COMMUNICATIONS

*1105

Approve, on the recommendation of the Minister of Communications, pursuant to section 7 and subsection 8(3) of the Broadcasting Act, the Directions to the CRTC (Direct-to-Home (DTH) Satellite Distribution Undertakings) Order, issuing directions to the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) respecting policy for the licensing of Direct-to-Home (DTH) Satellite Distribution Undertakings. The Directions contained in the Order include directing the CRTC: to promote, through licensing, a dynamically competitive market for DTH distribution undertakings; to ensure, by appropriate means, that, with respect to the operation of a licensed DTH distribution undertaking, (a) substantially the same rules that are in effect for other distribution undertakings govern the selection of particular Canadian and foreign programming services that are offered by the undertaking to its subscribers; (b) the undertaking is subject to the same generally applicable Canadian policy as other broadcasting undertakings in respect of the use of Canadian and foreign satellite facilities; (c) the undertaking is subject to equitable obligations and makes maximum contributions to Canadian programming, including a significant financial contribution derived from a percentage of gross annual revenues to the production of Canadian programming, and that the financial contribution is administered independently of the undertaking; (d) the undertaking is not prevented from or impeded in distributing to its subscribers the same or equivalent programming services offered by other distribution undertakings as a result of contracts or arrangements entered into by other licensees for the acquisition of rights to the distribution or exhibition of such programming services via other distribution undertakings within Canada; (e) the undertaking is prohibited from distributing any pay-per-view service other than that offered by a DTH pay-per-view television programming undertaking; (f) the undertaking is not prohibited from distributing a pay-per-view service referred to in paragraph (e), above, for the sole reason that a foreign satellite is to be used for the distribution of the non-Canadian programming of that pay-per-view service, provided that such use is consistent with generally applicable Canadian satellite policy; and (g) where the undertaking decides to distribute one or more English-language pay-per-view services, the undertaking is required to distribute at least one French-language pay-per-view service as soon as that service becomes licensed for DTH distribution. In addition, the CRTC is directed (a) not to authorize any person or class of persons to carry on a DTH distribution undertaking other than by means of a license issued by the CRTC for that purpose; and (b) following the conclusion of the licensing process referred to in this Order, to take all necessary and appropriate steps to ensure that no person is authorized to carry on a DTH distribution undertaking by any means other than a license. The CRTC is directed not to refuse to issue a license to an applicant to carry on a DTH distribution undertaking for the sole reason that the applicant holds a license to carry on a DTH pay-per-view television programming undertaking. Finally, the CRTC is directed to call, immediately on the coming into force of this Order, for license applications to carry on DTH distribution undertakings and, thereafter, to complete the licensing process in respect of those applications at the earliest time practicable and, in the absence of the most compelling of circumstances, not later than November 1, 1995. (July 6, 1995)

*1106	Approve, on the recommendation of the Minister of Communications, pursuant to section 7 and subsection 8(3) of the Broadcasting Act, the Directions to the CRTC (Direct-to-Home (DTH) Pay-Per-View Television Programming Undertakings) Order, issuing directions to the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission respecting policy for the licensing of pay-per-view television programming undertakings that provide services through Direct-to-Home (DTH) Satellite Distribution Undertakings, as follows: The CRTC is directed to promote, through licensing, a dynamically competitive market for DTH pay-per-view television programming undertakings. The CRTC is directed to establish a class of licenses in respect of the carrying on of DTH pay-per-view television programming undertakings. The CRTC is directed, in the exercise of its powers in respect of the carrying on of a DTH pay-per-view television programming undertaking, (a) to prohibit, by appropriate means, the undertaking from acquiring exclusive or other preferential rights to pay-per-view distribution of feature films and other programming within Canada; (b) to ensure that the undertaking is subject to equitable obligations and makes maximum contributions to Canadian programming, including a significant financial contribution derived from a percentage of gross annual revenues to the production of Canadian programming, and that the financial contribution is administered independently of the undertaking; (c) taking into consideration the total number of channels over which the undertaking's service is offered, to apply rules that are comparable or equivalent to those rules in effect in respect of other pay-per-view television programming undertakings and that pertain to the annual exhibition ratios of Canadian to foreign films and events, the annual minimum numbers of Canadian films and events to be exhibited and the remittances to be paid by the undertaking to rights holders for the Canadian films and events it exhibits; (d) to require the undertaking to be subject to the same generally applicable Canadian policy as other broadcasting undertakings in respect of the use of Canadian and foreign satellite facilities; (e) not to refuse to issue a licence to an applicant for the sole reason that the applicant proposes to use foreign satellites for the distribution of non-Canadian programming to subscribers through a DTH distribution undertaking, provided that such use is consistent with generally applicable Canadian satellite policy; and (f) not to refuse to issue a licence to an applicant for the sole reason that the applicant holds a licence to carry on a DTH distribution undertaking. The CRTC is directed (a) not to authorize any person or class of persons to carry on a DTH pay-per-view television programming undertaking other than by means of a license issued by the CRTC for that purpose; and (b) to call, immediately on the coming into force of this Order, for licence applications to carry on English-language DTH pay-per-view television programming undertakings and for license applications to carry on French-language DTH pay-per-view television programming undertakings and, thereafter to complete the licensing processes in respect of those applications concurrently with the licensing process for DTH distribution undertakings referred to in the Directions to the CRTC (Direct-to-Home (DTH) Satellite Distribution Undertakings) Order. Prohibition of Certain Toxic Substances Regulations The proposed regulations will consolidate all of the toxic substances whose use in Canada should be totally banned for reasons of environmental or health protection. The existing regulations for mirex, polychlorinated terphenyls, and polybrominated biphenyls, approved in 1989, would be revoked and the three substances covered by Schedule I of the proposed regulations. In addition, two other substances – bis(chloromethyl) ether and chloromethyl methyl ether, will be added to Schedule I. While neither are currently present in Canadian commerce, they are being banned as a preventative measure. The proposed regulations will not apply to the use of the covered substances in laboratories for scientific research purposes or as analytical standards. Consultations took place under the Environment Department's Regulatory Review; comments suggested that the existing regulations be consolidated into a "generic banned substances regulation". Under the Act, stakeholders have 60 days to comment on the proposed regulations and to, if they choose, request the Minister to establish a board of review. Contact: Lawrence Fedoruk, Commercial Chemicals Evaluation Branch, Pollution Prevention Directorate, Environmental Protection Service, Department of the Environment, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0H3 Tel: 819-953-1671	Canadian Environmental Protection Act, Subsection 34(1) Not referred to in Federal Regulatory Plan

Vessel Traffic Services Zones Regulations, amendment

The proposals change the application of the Regulations for fishing vessels and pleasure craft; change the reporting requirements for vessels intending to enter or intending to depart a berth in a Vessel Traffic Services (VTS) zone; change reporting requirements for non-routine reports; and remove the possibility of self-incrimination by a master. The amendments include minor editorial changes; and technical changes are proposed for zone definitions, which would be defined within a schedule to the regulations, rather than by reference to the Vessel Traffic Services Zone Regulatory Specifications TP 8771.

The amendments exempt pleasure craft less than 30 metres and fishing vessels less than 24 metres in length and not exceeding 150 gross registered tons; the current regulations apply to all vessels 20 metres or greater in length.

The changes require all ships of 500 gross tons or more to report at least 24 hours before entering a VTS zone from seaward (the current requirement is 15 minutes); require that any fire, collision, grounding, or striking or any defect in the ship's hull, main propulsion systems or steering systems, radars, compasses, radio equipment, anchors or cables be reported; and replace a requirement to report 15 minutes prior to departing a berth and immediately before a ship departs a berth with a requirement to report immediately before commencing and immediately after completing a departure manoeuvre. A provision that the Standing Joint Committee for the Scrutiny of Regulations thought might be self-incriminating – requiring a ship master to report which charts of publications required to be on board under the Charts and Publications Regulations are not on board – would be revoked.

The government believes the changes will increase safety and reduce reporting burden.

Eastern Canada Vessel Traffic Services Zone Regulations, amendment

The proposal redefines reporting requirements for non-routine reports and removes the possibility of self-incrimination by a master; it deletes the current requirement that reports be communicated to a Canadian Coast Guard radio station, recognizing new communications technologies; and it makes minor editorial changes to ensure accurate references to the Canada Shipping Act.

To correct an anomaly in the current regulations, the proposal changes require that any fire, collision, grounding, or striking or any defect in the ship's hull, main propulsion systems or steering systems, radars, compasses, radio equipment, anchors or cables be reported.

A provision that the Standing Joint Committee for the Scrutiny of Regulations thought might be self-incriminating – requiring a ship master to report which charts of publications required to be on board under the Charts and Publications Regulations are not on board – would be revoked.

The government believes the changes will increase safety and reduce reporting burden.

Fort Frances Airport Zoning Regulations

The proposed zoning regulations will limit the height of new buildings, structures and objects or additions to any existing buildings, structures or objects, including objects of natural growth, on lands adjacent to the airport. The proposed regulations will prohibit such lands from being used or developed in a manner that interferes with any signals or communications to and from any aircraft or to and from any facilities used to provide services relating to aeronautics.

Property owners within a radius of 4,000 metres from the airport reference point will be restricted to construction to an elevation of 45 metres above the airport reference point elevation; within runway approaches and transitional surfaces, they will face more restrictive limitations.

The proposed regulations will be published twice in the Canada Gazette.

Retirement Compensation Arrangements Regulations, No. 2

The current regulations implement the "Early Retirement Incentive" for public service employees aged 50 to 54 who are declared surplus. The three-year program allows for the pension reductions to be eliminated for surplus employees who meet certain requirements.

These amendments add the Canadian Security Intelligence Service and Defence Construction (1951) Limited to the schedule of these Regulations and allow employees of these organizations to participate in the program if they meet the requirements.

Radio Regulations, 1986, amendment (Section 4); Television Broadcasting Regulations, 1987, amendment (Section 6); Specialty Services Regulations, amendment (Section 4)

Broadcasting Act
subsection 10(1)

The three regulations are amended to subject distillers and their spirit-based products to the same regulatory regime that currently applies to brewers and vintners, and their beverages.

The amendments substitute a new section in each of the regulations setting out the requirements for a licensee to broadcast a commercial message advertising, directly or indirectly, an alcoholic beverage. Among the requirements are that the sponsor be a brewer, winery, cider-house or distiller; that the sponsor not be prohibited from advertising the alcoholic beverage under laws of the province where the commercial message is broadcast; that the message complies with the Code for Broadcast Advertising of Alcoholic Beverages; and the script of the commercial message has been approved by a representative of the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC).

TAX CHANGES

SOR/95-332 Export Tax Exemptions Regulations (Tobacco Products), amendment. The Order makes the following changes: repeals Section 4 and the heading before it; adds three brands (Canadian, Dorchester, and Montreal Blend) as items 14, 15, and 16 respectively to Schedule I; and adds Canadian Gold and Old Port brands as items 4 and 5 respectively to Schedule II. The changes prescribe tobacco and cigarette products that may be exempted from the application of the export tax, at the request of industry, either because the brands are sold in very small quantities in the Canadian domestic market or are distinct blends sufficiently different from that sold domestically, with a low risk of being smuggled into Canada.
